

Notes on Contributors

JÓZEF BUDNIAK, Professor, PhD; research worker and academic teacher at the University of Silesia in Katowice, Faculty of Theology (Department of Canon Law and Ecumenical Theology); former President of International Ecumenical Fellowship; member of Commission for Polish-Czech and Polish-Slovak Relations of the Polish Academy of Science; Chairman of the Society of Theologians of Ecumenism. Author of numerous books and studies on ecumenical theology and Church history, such as: Jan Sarkander. Patron jednoczącej się Europy (Jan Sarkander. The Parton of Uniting Europe), Bytom–Cieszyn 1995; XXVIII Międzynarodowy Kongres Ekumeniczny w Cieszynie. Ora et labora (28th International Ecumenical Congress in Cieszyn. Ora et labora), Cieszyn–Bytom 1996; 200 lat kościoła w Brennej (200th Anniversary of the Church in Brenna), Brenna–Bytom 1996; Ekumenizm jutra na przykładzie Śląska Cieszyńskiego. Studium historyczno-pastoralne (Ecumenism of Tomorrow Based on the Examples of Cieszyn Silesia. Historical and Pastoral Study), Katowice 2002; Jednoczeni w różnorodności. Tradycja cyrylo-metodiańska jako paradygmat procesu pojednania Kościołów, kultur i narodów (United in Diversity. Cyrilo-Methodian Tradition as a Paradigm of the Unification Process of Churches, Cultures and Nations), Katowice 2009.

ANDRZEJ CHOROMAŃSKI, PhD; priest of the Diocese of Łomża, Poland, Doctor of Dogmatic Theology and ecumenist. Staff member of the Dicastery for Promoting Christian Unity, responsible for multilateral relations (World Council of Churches, Global Christian Forum, Conference of Secretaries of Christian World Communions, Organization of African Instituted Churches), lecturer in ecumenism at the Pontifical University of St. Thomas Aquinas in Rome. Author of publications in the field of dogmatic theology, ecumenism, interreligious dialogue, theology of the priesthood.

LUCJAN KLIMSZA, PhD; graduate of the Theological Faculty, Comenius University in Bratislava, where he earned Doctor of Theology (ThDr.) degree in 2007. In 2009, he earned his doctoral degree in history of philosophy (PhD). In 2014, he concluded his studies at the Faculty of Arts at Comenius University in Bratislava, where he defended his doctoral degree, Doctor of Philosophy (PhDr.). His main area of interest is the ethical problem of values in the context of postmodern philosophy. He has published articles in several journals, for example The New Educational Review. He lives with his family in Havířov and works at the Department of Social Studies, Pedagogical Faculty of Ostrava, University of Ostrava, where he lectures History of Philosophy and Introduction to Ethics. He is the author of several articles about the values and a few books from the field of history of philosophy, for instance: Wust: Identita nejistoty (2009; Wust's Identity of Uncertainty).

PAWEŁ PIELKA, priest of the Diocese of Sosnowiec. In 1992, he graduated from the Faculty of Law and Administration of the University of Silesia. In 1992–1994 he was a scholarship holder at the Institute of Political Studies in Bordeaux. In 2010, he defended his doctorate in fundamental theology at the Pontifical Gregorian University in Rome. From 2019, assistant professor at the Department of Ecclesiology of the Pontifical University of John Paul II in Krakow.

PRZEMYSŁAW SAWA, presbyter of the Diocese of Bielsko-Żywiec, Doctor of Dogmatic Theology, associate professor in the Department of Dogmatic Theology and Spirituality of the Faculty of Theology, University of Silesia in Katowice, founder and director of the Cyril and Methodius School of Evangelization. His interests include ecclesiology, spirituality, theology of Church's renewal (evangelical Catholicism) and the theology of Pope Francis.

ONDREJ ŠTEFAŇAK, PhD; is a diocese priest in the north of Slovakia and a lecturer at the Faculty of Education, Catholic University in Ružomberok, where he defended his Master's thesis in theology in 2004. In 2008, he received his PhD in sociology at the John Paul II Catholic University of Lublin. He is a member of the Slovak Philosophical Association at the Slovak Academy of Science and his main research interests are sociology of religion and morality.