

CONTENTS

Wiesław BANYŚ: Presentation

Gaston GROSS: For a Systematic Inventory of Support Verbs

Igor MEL'ČUK: Support (= Light) Verbs

Jean-Claude ANSCOMBRE: Pluralia Tantum and Support Verbs

Wiesław BANYŚ: Textual Inferences and Support Verb Constructions

Peter BLUMENTHAL: Light Verbs — A Diachronical Perspective

Letizia D'ANDREA: Light verb constructions in Spanish and in Italian: lexical and morphosyntactic asymmetries

Marco FASCIOLO: The Paradox of Light Verbs

Aude GREZKA: Study of Nominal Predicates in the Lexicon of Visual Perception

Grażyna VETULANI: On the Contribution of the Support Verb in Verb-Noun Constructions in Polish

Alicja HAJOK, Katarzyna GABRYSIAK: Support Verbs and Other Realizers of the Nominal Predicate <comparison> in Scientific Texts

Izabela POZIERAK-TRYBISZ: A Contrastive French-Polish Analysis of Support Verbs in the <attack> Class

Edyta BOCIAN: Demetaphorization in the translation process: some linguistic problems

Barbara HLIBOWICKA-WĘGLARZ, Dominik GAKAN, Natalia KLIDZIO: The origins of diatopic variation of Brazilian Portuguese

Petro MATSKIV, Tetiana BOTVYN: The Semantic Scope of the Lexeme Fear in the Biblical Text

Oksana MYKYTYUK: Biblical and Anthropocentric Phraseologisms in Dmytro Dontsov's Works: A Cognitive Aspect

Joanna OZIMSKA: Never say basta to a plate of pasta. The discourse of slimming diets in the Italian magazine "For Men" (2013—2022)

Aleksandra PALICZUK: The subjunctive mood: the case of Polish and Italian

Magdalena PERZ: Faceted Words — Analysis of the French Noun journal

Monika PRYSOK: How to translate metaphors? A cognitive analysis of some metaphoric expressions based on the original and translations of "Brave New World" by Aldous Huxley

Beata ŚMIGIELSKA: Don't Be Fooled by the Language: Between Syntax and Semantics