

CONTENTS

Ewa CISZEWSKA: The verb devoir and their three Polish equivalents: musieć, mieć, powinien	7
Joanna CHOLEWA: Analysis of the Polish verb opasć / opadać	24
Aleksandra CHRUPAŁA: The Daily Bread of the lexicographer or lexicographic description of food-related lexis developed by the object-oriented method	46
Anna DUTKA-MAŃKOWSKA: Selon as a marker of dissimilarity of linguistic expression and its Polish equivalents on the basis of the press corpus	57
Katarzyna GABRYSIAK: A few comments on the topic of disambiguation of the verb mettre	71
Anna GRIGOWICZ: Body parts underestimated in language	91
Gaston GROSS: Humor and its grammatical triggers	100
Agnieszka GWIAZDOWSKA: An approach to a contrastive analysis of the comparative phraseological units containing names of animals in Spanish and Polish	107
Aleksandra KOSZ: The passage from thought to language – cognitive analysis of strada in Italian	124
Jung-Hae LIM: The French imperfect and punctuality	142
Anna NOWAKOWSKA-GLUSZAK: When the request doesn't make sense: contrastive analysis of questions in Spanish and Polish	158
Ramona PAUNA: Cause and metaphor	170
Magdalena SOWA: Culture(s) in professional communication	186
Monika SUŁKOWSKA: Phraseological units in the interlinguistic perspective: problems of equivalence and translation	194
Aleksandra ŻŁOBIŃSKA-NOWAK: Verb venir – typological draft and attempt of translation into Polish of its spatial French and Spanish use	210
Aleksandra KOSZ: Representation of knowledge – different models of conceptual structures in the field of Cognitive Linguistics	221