POSTSCRIPTUM POLONISTYCZNE, 2026 • 2 (38)
ISSN 2353-9844

Contents

LANGUAGES, PEOPLE, COMMUNITIES: STUDIES AND ESSAYS IN HONOUR OF PROFESSOR JOLANTA TAMBOR

Anna Gawryś-Mazurkiewicz

Prescriptum: Between Language and the World: Jolanta Tambor's Scholarly Journey Told Through Verbs

ARTICLES

Magdalena Pastuch

Should We Teach Foreign Learners Earlier Stages of the Polish Language? On the Common Ground Between Historical Linguistics and Glottodidactics

Cristina Godun

Early Traces of Polish Language Teaching in Romania: The Textbooks of Tadeusz Gostyński

Grażyna Zarzycka

Encountering the Other as a Key Element of Intercultural Pedagogy and Education

Oksana Lozynska, Alla Kravchuk

Is Polish a Difficult Language for Ukrainians? (Based on a Survey of Students and Graduates of Polish Studies in Ukraine/Lviv)

Anna Seretny

Cross-Curricular Lexis, or on the Trail of the Language of School Education

Lidija Tanuševska

The Linguacultural Image of Skopje through the Lens of Polish Literary Reportage: A Practical Outline for Teaching Macedonian as a Foreign Language

Andrea F. De Carlo

Teaching Polish as a Foreign Language via MOOCs: The ALM@ Project – Pedagogical Objectives, Challenges, and Opportunities

Anna Dąbrowska

An Exquisite Selection of Texts

Katarzyna Kłosińska

The Subjective Element in Neography

Tomasz Wicherkiewicz

(Tentative) Regional Language Policy towards Wymysorys: A Microlanguage Model in the European Perspective

Nicole Dołowy, Kamil Czaiński, Maciej Mętrak

The Silesians in the Context of Research on the Ethnolinguistic Vitality of Communities Speaking Collateral Languages

Gerd Hentschel, Victoria Steinfeld-Lidzbarski, Jan Patrick Zeller

Once More Widza ta lampa – Observations on the Inflectional Morphology of Contemporary Spoken Silesian

Aldona Skudrzyk, Jacek Warchala

Once Again, What About this Silesian Speech? Initial Report

Contents

Bernadeta Niesporek-Szamburska
The Silesian Witch and Her Representation in Culture, History, and Language

Agnieszka Tambor
Silesian Film Shelf

PERSONAL RECOLLECTIONS (NON-PEER-REVIEWED TEXTS)

Sung-Eun Choi (Estera Choj)
When There Is No Path, One Must Create It Oneself: On the Occasion of Professor Jolanta Tambor's Retirement

Li Yinan
Language, Culture, and Encounter: Professor Jolanta Tambor from the Perspective of Polish Studies in China