

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Tomasz Duraj: Implementation of Platform Directive 2024/2831 into the Polish legal order – areas relevant to the entire labour law

Norbert Sitko: Presumption of the employment relationship of digital workers and the protective function of labour law

Jakub Gołaś: The problem of double subordination of food-delivery platform workers in Poland as a classification challenge to the Polish labour law system

Joanna Unterschuetz: Criminal sanctions for infringement of provisions implementing the Platform Directive?

Andrzej Marian Świątkowski: The impact of Artificial Intelligence in the European Union on human work (view of the European Economic and Social Committee EU)

Edyta Bielak-Jomaa: The use of modern technologies in employment and the protection of personal data – selected issues

Kinga Piwowska, Andrzej Marian Świątkowski: The right to be “offline” and rest in the context of a task-based working time system

Paulina Mincewicz: The right to disconnect in the context of the constitutional right to rest and leisure

Iwona Więckiewicz-Szabłowska: The right to be unavailable (offline) – is it time for a new principle of employment law?

Ewa Pietrzak: Legal definition of the remote work in Polish labour law

Ernestyna Pachała-Szymczyk: The employee’s right to criticise the employer on the internet: how to set legal boundaries?

