

Contents

THE END OF CHILDHOOD AS WE KNOW IT?

Weronika Kosmalska

Where are children? An analysis of the laws on education from 1918—2018

Alicja Baluch

Directions of development of the latest children's literature in the light of applications for the Yellow Cizemka Award (in 2021)

Małgorzata Figura

The child facing climate catastrophe: Witness, victim, activist

Agnieszka Tyczka-Nowak, Patrycja Tyczka-Morzyńska

“Read and change the world”: A case study of children's social activism

Helena Barbara Balcerek

From Polish education project to pro-ecological project in an integrated-learning classroom in primary school (a project description)

Simona Borisová

Forming a relationship with nature and its protection through philosophical literary stories

Maria Waclawek

Reminiscences of childhood — minor remarks on creative writing in teaching Polish as a foreign language

CRITICAL SKETCHES

Małgorzata Wójcik-Dudek

Threads, pedology, podiatry. Justyna Bednarek's stories about co-toddling

Małgorzata Ewa Chrobak

The magic of unimpressive things in Justyna Bednarek's work

Bernadeta Niesporek-Szamburska

What is the difference between Babcocha and the witch of children's imaginations?

Anna Sałatarow

(Un)happy endings in contemporary children's Holocaust literature

Alicja Mazan-Mazurkiewicz

More than a fly soup: The poetical potential of cuisine in contemporary Polish children's poetry

Kamil Wrzeszcz

When people are away, animals will play. Animal motifs in Polish children's comics

VARIA

Dariusz Żółtowski

The act of reading and the economy, or the credo of the Polish philologist

Karolina Wiktorina Kabacińska

A report on celebration of the 28th All-Poland Kornel Makuszyński Literary Prize in Oświęcim (8th October 2021)