

Contents

Remaining Down-To-Earth Together (Ivana Dobrotová, Małgorzata Wójcik-Dudek, Anna Guzy, Karolina Starnawska)

ARTICLES

DOWN-TO-EARTHNESS

Joanna Godawa

Is a Trip to the Earth Necessary? On Childhood and Nature

Alicja Wosik

Between the Canon and Commitment: Turning towards the Earth in Polish Literature Lessons in a Primary School

Magdalena Kuczaba-Flisak

In a Scandinavian Forest (An Ephemeral Cartography of Nature)

Agnieszka Kwiatkowska

In the Forest and the Garden: Emilia Kiereś's Eco-philosophy

Paulina Walczak-Hańderek

Wave

Bernadeta Niesporek-Szamburska

“Coal will no longer be needed...” – Eco-images in Children's Narratives/Speculations about the Future

Anita Hutková

An Eco-song – A Specific Form of the Environmental Communication

VARIA

Jan Zdunik

Discussing Relations: a Handful of Reflections on Psychoanalytic Inspirations in the Methodology of Polish

Wiktoria Krawczyk

Teaching Polish and the Holocaust – Discussing Anna Czerwińska-Rydel's Listy w butelce

Krystyna Heska-Kwaśniewicz

On Silver Bells, Golden Stars, Copper Leaves, and Brave Knights, or about the “Metal Series” by Emilia Kiereś

Marta Nadolna

On Polish Fiction for Young Readers in the First Two Decades of the 21st Century: Reflections in the Margins of Dominik Borowski's Book

Grażyna Lewandowicz-Nosal

Siedem księżyców by Wanda Chotomska and Józef Wilkoń – the Unity of Word and Image