

Contents

IN-FLOWS: RIVERS AND OTHER WATERS IN CHILDREN'S AND YOUNG ADULT LITERATURE

Michał Paluch

On the Banks of the Rivers of Eden: The Pedagogy of the "First Earthling's" Ecosystem

Bernadeta Niesporek-Szamburska

Who are Rivers? About Rivers Based on Poems for Children

Julia Manowska-Cebula

Companion, Silent Witness, Habitat, and Guardian-Creator: The Role of Water in Children's and Young Adult Literature: A Study of Selected Works

Aleksandra Polok

Hydropoetics of 'Flow and Resistance' in Poetry Addressed to Young Readers: Poems by Józef Ratajczak, Jerzy Ficowski, and Danuta Wawiłow

Agnieszka Miernik

"To Go Far Means to Return" – The Image of the River in Fairy Tales and Chinese Landscapes

Anna Podemska-Kałuża

The River as a Symbol of Memory in Culture: An Aquatic Reading of Eligiusz Kor-Walczak's Baśnie i legendy kaliskie

VARIA

Małgorzata Wójcik-Dudek

Stories (from/of) the Earth: The Possibility of Field-Based Polish Studies Education

Angela Bajorek

From Katowice to Allgäu: Ruth Storm, a Chronicler of Silesian Stories and an Author of Children's Literature

Karolina Starnawska

Archiving the Writer's Legacy: Małgorzata Musierowicz's Approach to Her Autobiography and Official Website

Agnieszka Miernik

Re(vision) of Slavic Culture in Myths for Children and Young Adults by Igor D. Górewicz

Ewa Ogłóza

On Reading in Different Ways: Letters and Illustrations in the Book A Velocity of Being: Letters to a Young Reader

Aleksandra Wrona

The Creation of Detective Characters in Educational Crime Novels, Exemplified by Two Series of Fiction: The Case of Alan Bradley's Flavia de Luce and Robin Stevens's A Murder Most Unladylik