

Contents

Introduction ( Bernadeta Niesporek-Szamburska, Karolina Starnawska, Małgorzata Wójcik-Dudek ) . . . . .	7
--	---

NEW HUMANITIES

Krzysztof Koc Polish language education in times of populist plague . . . . .	13
Alicja Fidowicz Polish children's and youth literature in the reflection of crip theory. Chosen examples . . . . .	35
Maria Balik Literature-/TV-series-based lessons of feminism. The case of Anne of Green Gables . . . . .	43
Alicja Baluch People and objects. Children's literature as an aesthetic school of sensitivity . . . . .	59
Agnieszka Kwiatkowska The Roots of Memory. On Mirabelle by Cezary Harasimowicz . . . . .	67
Ewa Ogłóża Hans Christian Andersen's The Flax — a fantasy tale about a plant? . . . . .	77
Tatiana Szulik-Opala Human and animal portraits in a detective novel by Marta Matyszczyk Tajemnicza śmierć Marianny Biel . . . . .	91

FROM THE WORLD

Valter do Carmo Moreira Subjectivity and “displacement” in Lucy Knisley's work . . . . .	109
--	-----

Valter do Carmo Moreira
Subjectivity and “displacement” in Lucy Knisley’s work . . . . .	115

VARIA

Krystyna Zabawa
From playing with dolls to playing with words — Paweł Beręsewicz’s poetry books for children . . . . .	123
Oliwia Brzeźniak-Pałgan
Faces of childhood in the works by Paweł Beręsewicz . . . . .	135
Grażyna Lewandowicz-Nosal
The beginning and the end according to Paweł Beręsewicz . . . . .	143
Jarosław Dobrzycki
Kira as a (non-)stranger. On the protagonist of the Death Note manga series cre- ated by Takeshi Obata and Tsugumi Ohba . . . . .	149
Agnieszka Miernik
Fairy tales in integral bibliotherapy . . . . .	161
Agata Kiwacka, Joanna Letkiewicz-Zamora
“We open the eyes of students”. Innovative didactic activities . . . . .	173
Małgorzata Wójcik-Dudek
A report on celebration of the 26th All-Poland Kornel Makuszyński Literary Prize in Oświęcim (1st—3rd October 2019) . . . . .	183