

Table of Contents

ARTICLES

ALEKSANDRA FLOREK – Permission to use a telephone by the person who was temporarily arrested in the light of the regulation issued by the minister of justice on 22 December 2016.	11
ANNA JAWORSKA-WIELOCH – Some remarks about the necessity of maintaining consistency between criminal law and other branches of law	27
PATRYK KEPA – System-related guarantees of the rights of a detainee as models of judicial control of detention in a Polish criminal lawsuit	43
MARIUSZ KRASOŃ – The “fruit of the poisonous tree” from the perspective of a public prosecutor in terms of the constitutional foundations of a criminal lawsuit	61
ZBIGNIEW KWIATKOWSKI – The appointment of the adjudicating panel in criminal cases	75
DOMINIKA LAPAWA – Non-statutory justification of action within the framework of entitlement which results from the right of defence in the context of the amendment of Art. 233 §1 of the Criminal Code	91
ALEKSANDRA LIMAŃSKA – The lack of the obligation of the public prosecutor to attend a trial in the context of the basic principles of a criminal lawsuit	125
OLGA SITARZ – The politico-criminal significance of voluntary disclosure manifested by the offender after the commission of the crime of non-payment of alimony (Art. 209 §4 and §5 k.k.).	137

KATARZYNA SYCHTA – Relative cause of appeal associated with an error in the reconstruction of the actual basis of a ruling in the legal-international and constitutional perspective	155
STANISŁAW TROCIUK – Constitutional aspects of a criminal lawsuit in the activities of the Ombudsman	205
MARTA TUMIDALSKA – The limits of permissible provocation in the light of Art. 24 k.k.	213
RADOSŁAW KOPER – The principle of the openness of the main trial proceedings and the guarantees stipulated in the Constitution . .	225

REPORTS

MARTA PUSTUŁA – A report of the Second Silesian Criminal-Lawsuit-Related Forum entitled “The constitutional foundations of a criminal lawsuit”, Katowice, 12 October 2017	243
---	-----