

Contents

Wound/Masculinity (Wojciech Śmieja) |

Explorations and Autopsies

Łukasz Józefowicz: (Anti)poetical Matters – “Anxiety of Production” in modern Polish Poetry (Leśmian – Peiper and Przyboś – Różewicz) |

Krystian Maciej Tomala: “An Unearthly Beautiful Wound in the Universe”. A Homosexual Figure in Selected Poems of Tadeusz Różewicz |

Jan Potkański: The Catechist’s Sting: Czesław Miłosz’s Lost Apo-phrades |

Józef Olejniczak: Gombrowicz’s Anarchies: Gombrowicz Was Not of Much Use, After All |

Mirosław Goluński: Wounded Leptines, Hidden Teodor (Parnicki) – Painful Textual Signature |

Ewa Graczyk: Just Like Dark Huge Crickets. On Tadeusz Breza’s Vatican “Duology” (Spizowa brama and Urząd) |

Krystian Węgrzynek: A Decapitation (Silesian) Wound. Between Jan Nikodem Jaroń’s and Szczepan Twardoch’s Diagnoses |

Sabina Kwak: Rafał Wilczur’s “Torn Suit”. On Melancholy of the Protagonist of Tadeusz Dołęga-Mostowicz’s Novels |

Wojciech Śmieja: Prostatic Narratives and the Refigurations of Masculinity |

Marta Szpatowicz: Hurt and Comfort in slash |

Readings and Diagnoses

Izabela Morska: The Scar over Solidarity. Polish Anti-hunting Movement as the Successor of the Nineteenth-century Nature Conservation Movement and Civil Disobedience Practice |