

Contents

Outlines and Revisions

Krystian Węgrzynek: Children of the Erlking. An Analysis of Upper Silesian and Other Cases |

Explorations and Autopsies

Joanna Warońska-Gęsiarz: From the Perspective of a Child. The Theme of a Garden in Stories Written by Shoah Survivors |

Anna Karonta: Small and Fragile: Svetlana Alexievich's Last Witnesses: An Oral History of the Children of World War II as a History of War from a Child's Perspective |

Magdalena Krzyżanowska: A Record of "Miserable Irish Childhood" in Frank McCourt's Autobiographical Dilogy |

Anna Kisiel: Homelessness and Knowledge On Childhood Wounds in Swimming Home by Deborah Levy |

Mateusz Kaliński: "I am writing up in the air because I want to come back quickly, I want to undo it". Barbara Klicka's Zdrój as a Novel on Trauma |

Laura Janoszek: Social Inequalities and Identity Shaping A Reading of Ma być czysto by Anna Cieplak |

Readings and Diagnoses

Weronika Madryas: Narrative Art Therapy as a Result of the Collaboration of Narrative Medicine and Art Therapy, with Particular Emphasis on Bibliotherapy |